My Query: I am looking for any information about relatives of Victor Samuel McCullough, born Ireland around 1900 moved to Canada (Ontario,I think) as a baby. I think he moved to USA (possibly Philidelphia) before he moved to Manchester England around WW2 where he married Elsie and had my Father Malcolm, Hilda (or ann), Greta and Carol. Malcolm, myself, ann and her family all live in Australia, Greta and Carol both live in Manchester and Elsie recently died. Victor died around 1960.

I would be grateful for any info anyone might have.

My Query: My great grandfather was Capt. Joesph E. McCullough. He was born somewhere in Pennsylvania in 1845 and died in 1917 on the Mississippi while at the wheel of his steamer, the Belle of the Bends. At the time, he lived with his cousin Mrs. L. Brown in St. Louis. The Capt. was a close friend of Mark Twain. For forty years he ran steamboats up and down the Mississippi, the Ohio and the Illinois rivers. According to the June 11, 1917 front page story in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, his father (?) operated a chain of Steamboats out of Cincinnati. My great grandfather was survived by his two sons, William T. of Pittsburgh and George C. of Minneapolis (my grandfather), and his sister Nellie Moore of Cincinnati. I believe my ancestors stemmed from St. John, New Brunswick, Canada. My father was Donald J. McCullough, of Saugus, MA. His father was Richard B. McCullough of Saugus, MA. His father was Richard J. McCullough of Saugus, MA. I don't know where it goes from there, possibly back to Maine, then St. John. Apparently way back, the local McCullough's of St. John donated many acres of land to the catholic church, however this was back when Canada was British, and didn't recognize the catholic church. Later, I was told there was some concern that the catholic church feared that some of the McCulloughs would someday return and lay claim to the donated land. If you know of any geneology that goes back in New England, I'd be very interested.

My Query: I am Looking For: Any one who in search of thier ancestral back ground to take a look at Bridge Port Illinois. My gfather's name was Walter Mccullough. My ggfather was Henry McCullough. Bridge Port Illinois is the largest McCullough/plantation you will ever find. Bridge Port, and every local city around it is smuthered with McCulloughs. The reason why there are so many there is because at one time when the McCullough's were at its largest comeing to America. There was a young man whom was of royalty of the McCullough decendants that came as an imagrant. When he traveled to Bridge Port. It seemed that most every McCullough that kept the traditional pride of following royal crown followed this man to Southern Illinois. Most people that I have seen. That has went to Illinois to collect some McCullough Genealogy had in one way or another found a link. Because later in time the McCullough Clans in Bridge Port struck it rich in oil. With that wealth there was no need for them to leave that area to make a living some place else were. So most of them have been there for a long, long time. Being that this is so. It is only common sence to see that they have some what of a perspective from were ever it is that they came from before following the young McCullough Prince, Joseph McCullough. Long ago each McCullough left a part of the US. to join into these clans. Maybe your grand father, or grand mother was one of them. Take a look.

My uncle, who resides in Gouverneur, NY, has traced the family name to "McCullough" where there was a break in spelling, apparently due to religion, about three generations ago. The McCullough's remained Presbyterian. He's attempting to confirm a link from northern New York, to Canada, and begining, of course, in Scotland. I'm not trying to trace the family tree, but to confirm scottish roots, tartan, and crest. Search so far, has not been successful.

My particular line is John McCullough, b6-1755 Lancaster Co. Pa. His is probable his father was John McCullough also. John McCullough was in the military during the Revolutionary War. I have his pension records. He possibly married in North Carolina. His children are listed as Sarah..Mary...Elizabeth.....Rebecca...Robert...Jonathon... Margaret....William.....I am descended from Jonathon....Several of the above migrated to Southern Indiana.

Jonathon , Robert, William were living in Greene County and Owen County Indiana. The father, John was buried in Owen County, Indiana. Places they have lived were Pa., Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee and Pulaski County Kentucky, and finally Indiana. Jonathon and William were in the War of 1812.

If you think you might be researching this line let me know.

There is a story that was passed down from my McCullough family that I was wondering if anyone else has in their families. It involved a Wagon Train of McCullough families that was traveling west from the east coast and was attacked by a band of Indians.

Apparently the wagon train was broken up and the families scattered. Has anyone else out there heard this story? Another story that circulated was that the families name was originally spelled Mc/:Cullough and supposedly the /: denoted land ownership in Northern Ireland and Scotland.

Has anyone else heard that one also?

Thanks, Casi

I have been trying to discover if there is a family badge or tartan. Since tartans only became popular and formalized after the family migrated to North America, there may not be a designated tartan for the McCulloughs. If you are aware of a family badge or tartan, or know where I might find this information,

I would like to hear from you.

Is anyone researching John McCullough-McCulloch? B.1730's in ?? Located his land at the "South Branch of the South Fork of the Potomac River ",Hampshire Co. W.Va today, but old Augusta Co. Va. then. Established the trading trail up to the Cheat River and across to Fort Redstone in Penn. in 1750's . Would like to hear from anyone researching John, or his family- his sons were Sam and John, of Rev War fame; and his daughter married Ebenezer Zane, who founded Wheeling W.Va. Quaker records and Indian records are being searched, too. Will be glad to exchange data .Both McCullough,Mc Cullock, or any variation is accepted.

My Query: I am Looking For: Information on the McCulloughs who lived in Burlington Kansas. Specifically about the sons and brothers of Aaron Holbrook McCullough. His father Walter Rollin McCullough was killed in the civil war. Would like any information about his unit (may have lived in Indiana at the time of the war) and where and when he died. Also while on a trip to Ottawa Kansas I found the headstond of an unrelated McCullough in case anyone is interested it reads: Samuel N. McCullough 1841-1924:
Mary J. his wife 1846 - 1921.
Thanks.

This was posted to the Co. TyroneIreland-List originally with no success.It has been said that her name may have been Mary Jane instead of Jane Mary.

Would anyone have any information on Jane Mary McCullough. She was born 25 April 1823 in Omah, County Tyrone, Ireland. Nothing is know of her family other than that she was of the Methodist belief. The following is her obituary which appeared in: The Miami Helmet news paper in Piqua, Ohio USA dated Thursday April 16, 1896. "In Memory of Jane Dankworth" Jane [McCullough] Dankworth was born in Omah, County Tyrone, Ireland, April 25, 1823; died April 12, 1896 and was therefore 72 years, 11 months and 17 days of age. She came to this country when in her 15th year, remaining permanently. She united with the Salem Methodist Church, of Philadelphia, PA [USA], in her early womanhood and had been allied to the Methodist faith up to the time of her decease, although, for a number of years, ill health prevented her attendance at church. She was married to John Dankworth, December 29, 1851, they coming to Ohio [USA], the following year. The husband and three sons mourn her loss. The deceased was laid to rest in Forest Hill Cemetery, Tuesday afternoon after services conducted at the residence by Rev. W. H. Wehrly. Thus closed the life of one of Piqua's patient, useful and worthy Christian women, wife, mother and friend who will be greatly missed in the home of which she was the light and stay, and by all to whom she was known. She did with her might what her hands found to do.

Hoping to locate any family member in the Omah or County Tyrone area.

Thomas is my gg-grandfather. The family resided in Anderson, S.C. in 1830. WILLIAM died while in S.C. We believe there are family ties with PRICE/MCKEY/MCKAY/MACKEY families since they resided in close proximity of each other in S.C. The family moved to Chambers Cty, AL abt 1834 and resided there for many years. Thomas married Nancy Allen b. 1821 in GA. He moved to Coffee Cty, AL where he died in 1878.

We would appreciate any information on these families and are more than willing to share any data we have.

On a recent trip out west I stopped by the town of McCullough Alabama to see what I could see. Not much there a few houses and a graveyard which I investigated. The main plot was for the McCullough's and the inscription read something about a McCullough arrived in this area by covered wagon from Coffee county Alabama in the later 1800's. Any way that is my story about McCullough Alabama. Can you tell me anything more that you might know about this town and how it all fit's together with the McCullough line.

My Query:Hello McCullough researchers,

I have an Irvin(or Erwin) McCullough in Chickasaw Co, MS along with possible brothers, Martin, Perryman, Foster, and Daniel. All of these McCulloughs were born between 1805 and 1825, and according to the census all were born in MS or in TN. They're also very difficult to locate after 1870. Children of Irvin married into the Moore family and the Gable family, both also of Chickasaw Co.
